

BOUNDABOUT IN GEORGIA.

AGRICULTURAL.

THE FIELD, THE FARM, THE GARDEN.

Christmas—Remember—Farmers—Supplied Farm Animals—Wore Lands—Keep Improving—Be Keen Egg—Lies or Eggs—Or the Farm—Bless the Farmers—No

About this time look out for patent medicine almanacs.

—Eugene Speer of the Milledgeville Old Capital has been to Athens. He went for his health.

—Henry Thomas of Milledgeville, has returned to his agricultural interests. He is one of the most substantial farmers in the state, if what we hear is true.

—Theives in Dawson have become so reprehensible in their acts that the citizens have offered a reward of seventy-five dollars to anybody who will put salt on their tails.

—Georgia is said to pay her preachers better than any other southern state. This is a good record. We beg to take this opportunity of congratulating the preachers.

—The Atlanta Times should reflect over the news imparted to it through the medium of this column. The Hon. Potty Peagren, of Tugaloo, represents a class, and not a constituency.

—A negro woman more than one hundred years old has been dug up on St. Simons' island. She has never taken gin and sugar, and has always kept out of the way of the left-hand of a mule.

—A curious correspondent writes to know how the Count Johnson of St. George could move his orange-orchard from Talbot county to his vest pocket. This is a very unnecessary question, but we will dispose of it by stating that the count's orange orchard in Florida consists of three healthy trees taken from an orange pruned at a Jacksonville fruit stand. We trust our informant is plain.

THE YOUNG IDEA.

One of Bob Ingersoll's Theories Put to the Test.

Not long since, says Pops' Sun, the following letter of Bob Ingersoll went the rounds of the papers:

Colonel Ingersoll says he keeps "a pocket-book" of his theories, and his children go to bed with them to make them believe and help themselves to money whenever they want it. They eat when they want to. They sleep when they want to. They sit up all night if they desire. I don't try to serve them. I never punish, never scold. They buy their own clothes and are masters of themselves.

A gentleman living on Marshall street, who has a boy that is full as kitteh as his father, read the article, and pondered deeply. He knew that his son was a small, rascally child in the way that the boy could, and he thought he would try it. The boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, raising children in the way that the city you can have chickens packed in boxes that come from where you do not know, nor where killed. In the country you never partake out in the country, and the country you can have eggs and butter in the chimney corner on Christmas eve, the empty in the misty gray of the breaking Christmas morn. Let the fires around the Christmas breakfast glow bright in the love reflected from the Christmas gifts beside each plate. Thank God for Christmas when you have those love is yours.

WE have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

The boy looked at the old gentleman, put his hand to his head as though he had a sun-stroke, and went out to see the lamp-lighter climb that soft soap. The next day the boy was partake out in the country, and the country you can have eggs and butter in the chimney corner on Christmas eve, the empty in the misty gray of the breaking Christmas morn. Let the fires around the Christmas breakfast glow bright in the love reflected from the Christmas gifts beside each plate. Thank God for Christmas when you have those love is yours.

WE have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post in order to see the lamp-lighter climb it, and said to himself,

"I shall try it?"

We have a letter before us from a young man, who is raising children in the way that the boy had caused him considerable annoyance, and made him up his mind to do it. He had not tried it, however, so he had been lying in from the street, where he was putting soft soap on the lamp-post

GOLD, COTTON AND WEATHER.

GOLD opened in New York yesterday at $16.00 closed at 100.

Cotton, middling uplands, closed in New York yesterday at 84; in New York at 74—down 10 cents.

The general Survey Bureau report indicates for today, in Georgia, northwest to southwest winds, slightly warmer, clear or partly cloudy weather, stationary or rising barometer.

DAILY WEATHER REPORT.
OBSERVER'S OFFICE, SIGNAL CORPS, U. S. A.
ATLANTA, DECEMBER 18, 1878. 10:30 P.M.
(All observations taken at the same moment of each time.)

NAME OF STATION.	BAROMETER.	Thermometer.	Relative Humidity.	Direction of Wind.	Rainfall.	Weather.
Atlanta.....	30.05 62	60	N. W.	.00	Clear.
Augusta.....	30.15 65	70	N. W.	.00	Clear.
Key West.....	30.28 65	80	N. E.	.00	Clear.
Galveston.....	30.21 53	75	N. E.	.00	Cloudy.
Cordele.....	30.28 47	70	E.	.00	Cloudy.
Waycross.....	30.30 47	65	S. E.	.00	Cloudy.
Moultrie.....	30.37 41	65	N. E.	.00	Cloudy.
Montgomery.....	30.49 38	65	N. W.	.00	Clear.

Local Weather Report.
ATLANTA, G.A., December 18, 1878.
The weather is clear and cold. The thermometer stands at 41°. The wind is from the north west, blowing moderately. The barometer is 30.05. The rainfall is .00. Mean daily temp., 34.5°. Mean daily pressure, 30.00. Mean daily humidity, 50.3.

GEO. H. ROME,
Sergeant Signal Corps, U. S. A.
PREFERRED LOCALS.

CRAGUE & CO.,
SOUTHERN
WHOLESALE AGENTS FOR THE

"DOMESTIC"
THE ONLY
SEWING MACHINE
ever sold that fully meets the requirements
(complete and perfect).

Linen Terms to Merchants.
Write for Circulars.

43 Whitehall street, ATLANTA, GA.
409 mar24 dtf 1023

French, German, Japanese, plain and decorated China, Earthen,
Glass and Plated Ware, Lamps,
Cutlery, not to be exceeded in prices,
quality or quantity, at

HENRY SELTZER'S.
66 sep1878-ply

ALEX. FOX, Optician,
59 Whitehall Street.

TODAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

Bugles at auction—Hall & Morris.
Administrator's sale—S. Well.
Funeral notice of Miss Martha Middleton.

The Constitution.
ATLANTA, GA., DECEMBER 19, 1878.

SIDEWALK NOTES.

We miss the legislature.
Lay in your Christmas goods.

—Seas for Barrett are going fast.

—Have you got new year's?

—Our retail merchants are happy.

—Atlanta wants a tramp act passed.

—The first real winter weather is here.

—Chris-tmas turkeys are fattening.

—Chris-tmas is only half dozen days off.

—The hotels are full of visitors for the holidays.

—Atlanta will have a fine system of fire-alarm before long.

—Sprague's original Georgia minstrels at Concord hall to-morrow night.

—LaGrange is preparing for a grand ball on the 26th.

—It is claimed that Santa Claus is a mason.

—The drive around Atlanta are being put in fine condition.

—The Catholic fair will be one of the leading events of this year.

—Several of the working establishments are under way in our city.

—We hear of several candle pullings that will come off during Chris-tmas week.

—We have not had a clear, fine Chris-tmas day, in four years.

—A good many of the boys say that they intend to swear off Chris-tmas day.

—Church fairs andyster suppers will soon be the order of the day.

—The city is full of the festive drummers.

—We rather miss the thirteenth infantry since its departure.

—Atlanta wants a fire alarm and there is no time about it.

—Tramps are clearing out of our city at present.

—Mixing egg-nog will soon be one of the stirring events of the day.

—Invitations for Chris-tmas dinners are now in order of the day.

—Several of us are anticipating a large trade during Chris-tmas week.

—Why are not policemen professional tramps?

—The city chain-gang is busy at work carrying off the mud.

—Now is the time to advertise your Chris-tmas goods.

—Atlanta politics are run by the young men.

—An Atlanta auction house contains everything that can be thought of.

—A candidate for election to an office makes a good trump.

—I said the Lotta was once engaged to a New Orleans girl.

—The election for county officers comes off January 1, and each will be hotly contested.

—Macom had almost as live an election as our officers as we recently enjoyed in Atlanta.

—One or two more Sundays in which to repeat the sins of a whole year and get braced up for a fresh start.

—A number of the young men of our city intend to have some turkey shooting on the part of the day.

—A few vagrant hogs still promenade through the streets of our city and bid defiance to the hog law.

—Several couples in our city are about to "conclude matrimony", so madame rumors says.

—Improvements on the Catholic church are going rapidly. A flight of masonic stone steps being placed at the entrance of the cathedral.

—The name of the candidates for election to county offices stay up all day and night. A few of them go as much as three hours sleep in the twenty-four.

—The Belmont amateur band to-night and lay the ladies in their warmest endeavors to pay the debts that rest on them.

—The children's carnival at the Government next Thursday night will be seen in the most brilliant exhibitions ever seen in Atlanta.

—Yesterday the weather was most delightful. Cardinals enjoyed the opportunity to sit in some wild work.

—One of the main troubles about street names in Atlanta is the small appropriation.

—$13,000 is expended the year for a mile per mile for 130 miles for a year. In the third world, days it amounts to only $13,300.

—It is necessary to neglect a job costing $2.

—Just two or three times will be sufficient giving up to Baltimore one of our ablest and best preachers, and now comes a fresh boy from some grand city as we are called on for him.

—Mr. Stevens Thomas, a leading citizen of Athens, Ga., is visiting our city. He is a guest of the Kimball.

—Mr. Robert F. Wright and bride, nee Miss Anna, wife of Elton F. Farnell, the next term, she was again made a party, and the judge to whom the whole case was referred, gave his right to the fund, because the defendant's son had never been in any way sued, or served by any process whatever, should not have been struck down.

—C. Reed, for plaintiff in error.

—W. H. Branch, for defendants.

Hannah Haynes vs. Miller & Sibley, Rule, from Greene.

—Mr. Andrew Bates has gone to Griffin.

—Mr. Willie Wimble, of LaGrange, is in the city.

—Mr. A. B. Thornton, of LaGrange, Ga., returned home yesterday.

—Mr. Henry H. Perry, a prominent young lawyer of Griffin, Ga., was in the city.

—On another money rule for the same fund, the next term, she was again made a party, and the judge to whom the whole case was referred, gave his right to the fund, because the defendant's son had never been in any way sued, or served by any process whatever, should not have been struck down.

—The scholarly artist, Lawrence Barrett, has come here to-morrow evening as Hamlet and Saturday evening as King Lear. Barrett is one of the most deserving gentlemen in the drama, in the face of popular and traditional idolatry and his love for the grand and the true in art, and he has absolutely commanded recognition from the press and public throughout the globe as the greatest living representative of the legitimate drama. He has played in every country in the world, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.

—He is a great artist, and his name is known to every person of taste.